jammed into quarters intended for only This presentment is a shocking one. It means not alone that the wretched creatures in the asylums are suffering from the cramped accommodations of the present. It means, also, that unless way home a prompt remedy is found, there is no hope for the amelioration in their mental condition, which would in very many cases undoubtedly be possible under more favorable circumstances. Proper and discriminating treatment eanda cannot be administrated with affairs as represented. The matter is one which in the name of the merest humanity, demands immediate attention and measures

That is where that agent made his mistake. It is public business, whenever monopolists combine to keep up the prices of commodities. And these combinations and their impudent agents are taking the best possible means of stirring the public up to the point of taking a very energetic hold of the business. Some day it will take hold.
